The Academic Women’s Association (AWA) is a collegial association of professionals that:
- provides a voice for women on campus;
- provides opportunities for networking and nurturing among women from different disciplines and at different stages of their academic careers;
- and celebrates the achievements of academic women.

AWA welcomes women academics, graduate students, and APO appointments, both full- and part-time, along with associate members from other institutions. For more information, consult the AWA website: http://www.ualberta.ca/-awa.
