

Electrical Panels Must be Kept Clear!

Building Electrical panels must have a clear access of one metre in front of them. In a fire, Emergency Services must be able to get to a panel to de-energize circuits before they can properly engage the fire. For a flood, the first responders must be able to cut the power to safely enter the space. A clearance of 1 Metre must be kept in front of the panel!

