

Dear colleague:

Thank you for agreeing to write this review for Canadian Slavonic Papers. Unless otherwise agreed, it will be due two months from the day you received the book. If you expect a delay, please let us know, so that we may agree on a new deadline. Here are a few guidelines to assist you in writing and submitting your review.

Reviews should be between 500 and 800 words long. If a book is a collection of essays, the word limit is 1000. The editors reserve the right to shorten any excessively long review. Note that reviews are not returned to authors after editing.

At the top of the review, please list the bibliographic information in the following format:

Book title, by Author (First Name Last Name), Lanham MD, Lexington Books, 2008, 542 pp., £59.95 (hardback), ISBN 978-0-739-11434-6 / £27.95 (paperback), ISBN 978-0-739-11435-3

Book title: all bold, by Author (First Name Last Name) and Author (First Name Last Name) / edited by Editor (First Name Last Name), Cambridge, Harvard University Press, 2003, xliii + 584 pp., US$28.95 (paperback), ISBN 0-95-445440-6

Please double-space, using Times New Roman 12 pt. font. We use Canadian spellings (modified British) and your review will be edited to reflect this.

Quotations from the book under review should be followed by the page number in parentheses (29). If you refer to scholarly works other than the book under review, please provide the full names of authors, complete titles (and periodical titles, if applicable) and publication dates. Do not use endnotes.

Please italicize foreign terms, rather than underlining. We use the Library of Congress transliteration system.

At the bottom of your review, please list your name, affiliation, and e-mail in the following format:

Reviewer's Name
Affiliation
Email
(c) year, Reviewer's Name

Please save your review in the following format: [year of book's publication] [book's author] [name of the reviewer]. E.g.: 2005 Smith Krys.

When your review is ready, please e-mail it as an attachment to Dr. Alison Rowley (History and Social Sciences, profarowley@gmail.com), Dr. Mark Conliffe (Literature and the Arts, mconliff@willamette.edu), or Dr. Elisabeth Elliott (Language and Linguistics, eelliott@northwestern.edu). We use MS Word, but also accept WordPerfect or .rtf files.

Again, thank you for this important service to the profession.

Yours sincerely,
Book Review Editors
